

Dane Baxa Serves as Congressional Intern in Moran's Salina Office

SALINA - Congressman Jerry Moran today announced that Dane Baxa is serving as a congressional intern in his Salina office. Baxa is a 2005 graduate of Sacred Heart High School.

"Dane's willingness to help and his ability to manage multiple tasks have been valuable to me as I work on issues important to Kansans," Moran said. "I appreciate his efforts and am pleased to provide him this opportunity."

Baxa graduated from Kansas Wesleyan University (KWU) in 2008 with a bachelor's degree in biology and philosophy. Currently, Baxa is working on his master's degree in business and administration, also at KWU. He currently serves as the student body president and is a member the men's varsity basketball team, band and various other organizations on the KWU campus. Baxa plans on attending law school to study environmental issues.

"I am very grateful for this opportunity to serve Congressman Moran and the citizens of Kansas," Baxa said. "Getting first-hand experience in the relationship and interaction between citizens and the government is something that I can learn from and use for the rest of my life. I have a new appreciation for what Congressman Moran has done and continues to do for the people of Kansas, and am looking forward to my time of service with him."

In the office, Baxa is assisting Moran with legislative and administrative duties on behalf of the people of Kansas.

Baxa is the son of Mark and Tami Baxa of Salina.
